You Never Knew Me

- Do you think Jane made the right decision? Do you know women who have faced this same moment of crisis in their marriages and did they choose the “safe” or “the unknown”?
- Do you agree that women can become friends very quickly? Did you feel the relationship between the women was realistic? Have you had situations where you made friends quickly in a new situation?
- Do you think young women have a harder time in the business world than young men when starting out? Did you like the way Veronique handled the difficult personalities at work?
- Do you think it was realistic that Fiona didn't realize she was gay?
